

Robynne Kahn joins Cosmopolitan magazine

Robynne Kahn has been appointed as the fashion director of Cosmopolitan magazine, signalling a return to a department where she started her career almost 13 years ago. Working with Bev Nates, Robynne will be responsible for the fashion direction of the magazine. Bev, with her unique sense of style, will continue her longstanding commitment to and involvement with Cosmopolitan's fashion pages and will take on the role as fashion editor-at-large.
