On 26 September, Litha Communications arranged the official handover of the Legacy Project on behalf of the NHBRC and Department of Human Settlements. The ceremony took place on site in Conifer, Blue Downs in Cape Town.

(Fltr): Litha's Teresa Jenkins (MD), Andile Nontsa (CEO) and Beulah du Toit (Logistics Director) at the Legacy Project handover.

This was the third of the five events linked to the International Housing and Home Warranty Conference arranged by Litha Communications.

"It was a public event with community members joining Minister Tokyo Sexwale, public officials, the NHBRC, sponsors and a large media contingent for the official handover of the eight, double-storey, eco-friendly houses," says Teresa Jenkins, MD of Litha Communications.

She explains that Litha was responsible for turnkey event management and media liaison.

"We also arranged the sod-turning event for the Legacy Project on 18 July, so it was truly heart-warming to see the beneficiaries receive their keys to these beautiful, carefully thought-out homes," she says.
