

Wild Horizons terminates elephant-back safaris

Wild Horizons has brought to an end its elephant-back safaris and has replaced the activity with an elephant conservation experience.

Visitors to Wild Horizons are now offered the opportunity to walk through bushes with elephants, observe them close-up and to learn about the animals' individual characters whilst learning more about the importance of elephant conservation.

The replacement activity will continue to take place at the Wild Horizons Wildlife Sanctuary.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>