

Tania Habimana becomes host of CNBC Africa's Closing Bell

CNBC Africa has appointed an experienced entrepreneur and speaker as host of its daily Closing Bell show, Tania Habimana.

Presented daily at 5pm CAT, Closing Bell takes viewers through one of the most important hours of trading. The show gives an overview of South African markets and what's driving them.

Prior to her new role at the news outlet, she won the Brand Summit's SMME Brand Contributor of the Year award in recognition of her dedication to developing the SME landscape in South Africa. Through her new position, she will be able to gather the latest market information and insights to assist entrepreneurs in making better decisions.
