

Another SA recruitment app for Facebook

CareerJunction's online casting and talent management solution company, WholeBangShoot, has launched a Facebook application which gives aspiring models, actors and characters the opportunity to load their profiles and be searched by top talent agencies. The Wannabe app allows users to load their profile (basic information and photos) onto the WholeBangShoot database. WholeBangShoot then verifies the profiles after which it becomes searchable by registered talent agencies on the WholeBangShoot web service. Agents are able to search the Wannabe profiles and invite potential models, actors or characters to join. All communication is automated. "CareerJunction is growing and we are excited to be tapping into a social utility as well-known as Facebook and offer a fun, fast and rewarding service to Facebook users and talent agents alike," says Kris Jarzebowski, CEO of CareerJunction and WholeBangShoot.
