

Watch: Showcasing standout retail design from across the globe

Retail Design Institute's international president, Cynthia Hirsch, and Shop! Environments Association's global development director Leo van de Polder, recently presented a showcase of the retail industry's top store and point-of-purchase (POP) design from across the globe.

The work includes examples from the Institute's Store of the Year honourees as well as winning projects from the Shop! OMA and Global Awards programmes.

View the presentation below:

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>