

Grohe's product design receives five Red Hot Awards

Grohe has received five Red Hot Awards for the design performance of its water system Blue Home, shower toilet Sensia Arena, bathroom faucet Lineare as well as its kitchen faucet lines Concetto Professional, and Essence Professional. The Red Dot Awards are held by Design Zentrum Nordrhein Westfalen in Germany and acknowledges strides made in the design and manufacture of products.

More than 5,500 products from 54 countries were submitted for the 2017 Red Hot Awards and the winners were selected based on the innovation, functionality, ergonomics, durability, and ecological compatibility of the product.
