

Coface appoints new chief executive officer

International credit insurer, Coface, has appointed Xavier Durand as chief executive officer. Durand's role will entail strengthening commercial activity, and proposing and implementing structural adaptations to enhance the group's operational efficiency.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>