

Red Carpet Concepts wins two new hospitality accounts

Adding to its bouquet of high end hospitality clients, Red Carpet Concepts wins two new restaurant accounts in March 2014, namely Cassia and Tables@Nitida, dually owned by Warren Swaffield.

Tables@Nitida, based at the multi-award winning Nitida Wine farm, is an al fresco, Mediterranean cuisine restaurant, boasting a natural amphitheater for live concerts, coupled with a child friendly play area which caters ideally for the whole family. Cassia restaurant, also located at Nitida in the Durbanville wine valley, accommodates an understatedly upmarket restaurant setting complimented by the superlative views of the vineyards across the lake.

Red Carpet Concepts has been appointed to represent the PR, marketing and social media portfolios of these two restaurants, as well as assisting with various concerts, weddings, food and wine pairings and other upcoming festivals taking place at Tables@Nitida and Cassia.
