

Pinnacle Africa appoints new division head

Pinnacle Africa has announced that Vic Brits will head up the newly expanded SADC business division. He arrives with extensive ICT experience in the Africa continent.

Vic has worked across all sectors within the IT industry over the last 25 years - from channel partner to locally owned distribution and international OEM (hardware and software) distributor for many of South Africa's leading IT companies - and is renowned for having developed and maintained longstanding relationships within the African IT channel and industry.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>