HP South Africa appoints managing director

David Rozzio has been appointed as the new managing director for HP South Africa. Rozzi's role will include providing the company's Printing and Personal Systems business with both country leadership and profitable growth strategies. Rozzio was previously channel and SMB director for HP's Printing and Personal Systems business in the Middle East, Mediterranean and Africa (MEMA).

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com