

Broll Appoints Two Executives

Broll Property Group has appointed Gordon Bell, former City Property Administration chief executive officer as director for Broll's Africa business and Brad Gee, former chief operating officer for Dolmen Group, Pakistan's largest private owned property developer and management company, to managing director for Broll Kenya with effect from 1 July 2015.

Bell brings a track record of success in his career including the turnaround of Killarney Shopping Centre and turning the derelict Pretoria West CBD Portfolio into a profitable business during his tenure as CEO of City Property Administration. Australian Gee brings with him a wealth of real estate knowledge and emerging markets experience. He has worked in Australia, Dubai, Indonesia, Pakistan, Philippines, Taiwan and Vietnam as well as Europe. One of his career achievements include the restructuring of the then failing property management arm of Dolmen Group.
