

Elgin Grabouw Valley Tourism appoints new committee

The newly re-launched Elgin Grabouw Valley Tourism has appointed a new committee.

The committee comprises:

- Marion Smith - chairperson and co-owner of Elgin Ridge Wines
- Nicky Wallace - Paul Wallace Wines
- Liesl Cluver Rust - Paul Cluver Wines
- Nick King - South Hill Wines
- Roger Orpen - Elgin Railway Market
- Pieter Silberbauer - Trails End
- Alfra Cox, assisted by Edward Cloete, who will represent Theewaterskloof Municipality

The committee will be supported by a full-time executive head of tourism, Catherine Boome, who resides in Elgin on a family apple and pear farm. Mariaan Meyer manages administrative tasks.

The new structure and name encompass the entire Elgin and Grabouw community, offering a broader scope of information for local and international tourists. These include all sectors: wines, the new Elgin Railway Market, outdoor adventure activities, restaurants, accommodation facilities - that range from authentic farm experiences, mountain bike hotels to glamping - as well as the traditional farmstalls.
