

OurCrowd announces new chief innovation officer

OurCrowd has announced Dr. Hasanat Dewan as its new chief innovation officer. Dr. Dewan will manage the development and application of innovative processes, tools, and technology to support the growth of OurCrowd's business and will lead deep data analytics and AI projects to create differentiated products, services, and platforms intended to provide a unique value proposition for clients, investors, partners, and stakeholders.

Dr. Dewan has previously occupied executive roles in leading financial institutions.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>