

Akani Malobola joins Tribeca as account director

Tribeca Public Relations has appointed Akani Malobola as account director to lead the team that works on the Bolt, Epson, Lego Group and Logitech accounts.

Malobola has extensive communications experience within both in-house and agency side, and has also worked as a radio presenter and voice-over artist. He holds a diploma in media practices from Boston Media House and is currently completing his postgraduate diploma in marketing management at the IMM Graduate School of Marketing.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>