

Second M&G podcast in the pipeline

The Mail & Guardian will soon be launching the Mail & Guardian TechNews podcast, which will consist of a five-minute round-up of local and global technology news, a five-minute feature discussion and a few minutes wrapping up the latest news on the local blogosphere. Podcasters will be Vincent Maher, newly appointed digital media strategist at the Mail & Guardian Online and Mike Stopforth of Cerebra, a Web 2.0 entrepreneur, writer and speaker who also co-produces www.amplitude.co.za, a podcast discussing the best and the worst of new marketing in South Africa each week.
