Will you be joining them?

SatCom Africa is Africa's leading satellite, telco and broadcast industry event, where key stakeholders and decision makers from industry and government alike, discuss the best strategies to maintain, expand and develop African telecommunications.

Over 2000 industry professionals will meet in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Would you like to meet them at your stand?

We can connect you, with under two weeks away and only three stands left! Don't miss out; contact me now to secure your place.

SatCom Africa will address current and future challenges for all major stakeholders within the African telecoms and media sector. The forum will bring Africa's communications development to the forefront. Also, satellite, submarine and terrestrial projects from across the continent will be debated and challenged to ensure growth and sustainability within underdeveloped African regions.

SatCom Africa is Africa's most important forum for the broadcast, satellite and telecommunications sector, where executives discuss investment and development, challenges and opportunities within the sector.
