

MiX Telematics buys out minority shareholder Imperial

Vehicle tracking group MiX Telematics says it has entered into an agreement to buy more than 200-million of its own shares held by Imperial Holdings, for about R474m. The group said the deal was earnings-enhancing for shareholders and was in line with its strategy of disposing of minority investments.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>