

McCain Foods South Africa appoints new MD

McCain Foods South Africa has appointed Unathi Mhlatyana as its new managing director. Mhlatyana brings with him over 20 years of experience in the FMCG industry, having previously been employed in leadership roles at Pepsico and SAB/AB InBev.

In his new role, Mhlatyana intends to drive a purpose-led business model with a clear sustainable profitability trajectory whilst leveraging the full potential of the company's resources to create business strategies that deliver sustainable organic growth in collaboration with the customers and communities in which the business operates.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>