

Zim newspaper office and printing house firebombed

The Bulawayo office of Zimbabwe's only independent daily newspaper has been petrol-bombed. A journalist of the Daily News says that two petrol bombs were flung into their offices from a moving car early this morning. A guard managed to put out the fire and damages were minor. Also targeted was a private printing firm five streets away, The Daily Press, which was burned down. The firm had been printing campaign flyers and posters for the opposition MDC.
