

We dare to be different!

We don't want to live just to be forgotten. Rather, we find that there is power and beauty in our difference. It is our way to stand out in the world and showcase that being different is actually a better way of living.

We certainly wouldn't advocate turning your office, cubicle or home office into some kind of over-the-top theme park, but a few clever items carefully placed here and there can brighten up the duller of work spaces.

The perfect office space should inspire creativity. This is an attribute we pride ourselves on. By having an office, like ours for example, it offers you the chance to display things you might not get away with (or indeed, want to actually get away with) at home. Heck, we have turned our office space into our home away from our homes. After all, you do normally spend the better parts of your days there.

From magnificently branded ottomans to clever clocks and wall decals, there are plenty of options you can choose from to make your office space cool and productive. To make it a place where creativity lives. A place where doing the hard work is something you look forward to. A place to be awesome.

So, what does awesomeness mean to you?

For us at Wetpaint, it means finding really unique ways to connect previously unconnected things. That's why we have gone an extra mile to décor our offices in a way that only we can do! Take a look!

We always deliver awesome ideas on TIME! Our wall clocks are made from old vinyl records (LP) and branded with some popular South African Brands... Because well, we are proudly South African!!!

We have a giant hunger for success and greatness. These are our brainstorming ottomans with macro images of some of SA's most recognisable food brands.

A creative workspace can encourage employees' productivity with bursts of inspiration and creates a winning culture. We dare to be different, to be bold and inspirational in all that we do. Not just for the clients we work with but for ourselves as a team as well. We are definitely winning. You could be, too.
