28 Aug 2015

On Tuesday, 8 September, the third edition of Online Tuesday South Africa will be held at the Upper East Side Hotel (DoubleTree by Hilton), in Cape Town.

What is your craft?

Craft is a big trend at the moment and with the ease of online commerce, the internet has become the biggest craft market in the world. Whether a large retailer selling clothes or a one man brewing company distributing beers or a small leather-product making startup. Anything seems possible these days.

During this edition we will hear from seasoned experts what are the main drivers for their success. With a unique, authentic and original website popping up from everywhere the hipster pitfall is around the corner. What do you need to do to keep your public enticed and how do you keep reinventing yourself and your offer.

Lee Geldenhuys is Head of Strategy and Social at Hello Pretty. This platform serves for 1,288 design entrepreneurs as an online marketplace. Enabling these to embed their online stores into their websites as well as Facebook brand pages Hello Pretty connects buyers and sellers.
