

Thato Ramaphike speaks out to the logistics industry

This Youth Month, together with Pride Factor, young and confident 'thought leaders' share what they think the business community can do better to address the needs of the youth through a series of videos.

Thato Ramaphike, from Springs, has experience in the logistics industry but is currently seeking a job.

“ As a young logistics professional, decision-makers can reduce the internship program to permanent by employing fresh minds to bring innovation, change and economic growth. We as a youth, we thank you ”

She shares her views in this video.
